American Institute of Education Stipulations

The American Institute of Education does not discriminate on the basis of race, creed, age, sex, marital status, national origin or handicap, providing said handicap does not interfere with proper technique or use of equipment and the ability to perform.

To improve the probability of admitting only those students whose aptitude suggests that they will benefit from the training and will successfully complete the program, applicants are required to pass a test professionally designed and recognized for that purpose.

The Institute recognizes the student's rights to privacy and any release of student information will be governed by the policy established by the Federal Interagency Committee on Education. Student records are retained for fifty years.

*This full-tuition scholarship is awarded for enrollment at the American Institute of Education only.
